No River

Future Bible Heroes

I will walk along the beach by the ocean with my toes deep in the sand, and you will be there with me, whispering like all your fingers in my hand There will be no river that we can't cross, no mountain we can't climb I'll make all the same mistakes, and you'll forgive me Cause I won't love you next time Like the phoenix rising from the fire again, I will warm you with such fire even you could fall in love with me, and then... And I won't love you next time When you fall in love with me, all this dreaming will be yours All these riches throughout all eternity But I won't love you next time
