

As I Fall

Future Islands

I can't touch you anymore,
I can't tell you how I feel,
as I fall, You would walk.
Heavy hearts do bury words
Under promises and "anything you wants," you'll have.
Like a body without warmth Feels the blood arrest and blackens from the cold, I'd cave
For kings and queens misunderstand Heaven isn't held but takes you by the hand, so I've found
I can't touch you anymore
I can't tell you how I feel
as I fall, You would walk.

Tame your thoughts and let me in Break your callous ways and press me to your skin
Save a rose
