

Seasons

Future Islands

Seasons change
And I tried hard just to soften you
And seasons change
But I've grown tired of trying to change for you
'Cause I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo
I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo
'Cause I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo (ooo-hoo-hoo-hoo)
I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo

As it breaks
The summer will wake
But the winter will wash what is left of the taste
As it breaks
The summer will warm
But the winter will crave what is gone
Crave what is all gone away

People change
But you know some people never do
You know when people change
They gain a piece, but they lose one too
'Cause I've been hanging on you-hoo-hoo (ooo-hoo-hoo-hoo)
I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo
'Cause I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo (ooo-hoo-hoo-hoo)
I've been hanging on you-hoo-hoo

As it breaks
The summer will wake
But the winter will wash what is left of the taste
As it breaks
The summer will warm
But the winter will crave what is gone
Crave what is gone
Crave what is all gone away

'Cause I've been waiting on you-hoo-hoo
