

Now I Know

Gabe Bondoc

It's 3am and I'm not tired
I lie awake, I'm so inspired
You gave me just what I need, needed
I'm not quite sure what we're doing
Don't know what it is but I'm pursuing it
I've been waiting... oh, so long for...
Something, someone like you to come along

Now I know why everything that I tried fell to the floor
Because you were in store
There was always a reason
And the reason is you.

Oh, it's you.

From what you're telling me I'm thinking...
You feel like something is missing
I could be that piece you think that you need
Not sure you see what I see...
But I'm seeing something special
There's something blooming in the distance, wonder if we'll get there?

I've been waiting... oh, so long for...
Something, someone like you to come along

Now I know why everything that I tried fell to the floor
Because you were in store
There was always a reason
And the reason is you.

Oh, it's you.

Now I know why...
Stars aren't as bright in the sky...
Because the light that I saw in your eyes...
Gave me something
Now I feel so renewed
I feel it each time that I am with you

Now I know why...
Now I know why everything that I tried fell to the floor
Because you were in store
There was always a reason
And the reason is you.

Now I know why...
Now I know why everything that I tried fell to the floor
Because you were in store
There was always a reason
And the reason is you.

Oh it's you...
