

Shallow Love

Gabrielle Aplin

I think I think too much
I think we know too much
Every time I'm pushing past, I'm let right in
I'm in the photograph
While different people pass
I'm looking out and they just look right in

I've been looking for a moment to set alight
But I just end up with nothing

Give me a reason to let you go
'Cause I am drowning in your shallow love
Give me a reason, won't you let me know?
This heart of mine is sinking like a stone

Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go

I tried to wind it off
I think I've said enough
Don't you think it's time that you go take your turn?
Maybe I'm wasting time
My emotions paralyzed
And I don't even hear you when you're crying out loud

I'm always waiting for someone to start a fight
But I just end up with nothing

Give me a reason to let you go
'Cause I am drowning in your shallow love
Give me a reason, won't you let me know?
This heart of mine is sinking like a stone

Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go

I never feel the wanting
I never feel the needing
Give me a reason to follow, follow
I'm staring right into you
I'm tired of asking again and again, again and again

Give me a reason to let you go
'Cause I am drowning in your shallow love

Give me a reason to let you go
'Cause I am drowning in your shallow love
Give me a reason, won't you let me know?
This heart of mine is sinking like a stone

Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go
Shallow love, let me go
