Baby I've Changed

Baby, baby, baby Because

It's too many times you let me down When I needed you you could not be found So I picked up the pieces And tried to mend my broken heart

Then you'd reappear always acting like Nothing was wrong everything's just fine Want us to get back together Get back into my life

If I don't mind where you go Please don't come around call this your home 'Cos I don't mind where you go As long as you're not here

I don't mind where you go Please don't come around or call this your home 'Cos I don't mind where you go As long as you're not here

Baby baby baby What did you think I'd say? That I'd take you back again? Oh baby I've changed

Now you say you can't believe it How could I close the doors on you? Could it be that you've forgotten That you treated me so cruel?

You made your choice 'cos you stayed away For much too long, now it's way too late Did you want me to sit around and wait Like I've always done?

'Cos I don't mind where you go Please don't come around call this your home 'Cos I don't mind where you go As long as you're not here

I don't mind where you go Please don't come around or call this your home 'Cos I don't mind where you go As long as you're not here

Baby baby baby What did you think I'd say? That I'd take you back again? Oh baby I've changed

Baby baby baby What did you think I'd say? No no no no

Gabrielle

You always got what you wanted You knew I'd always oblige I'd always keep the door open Waiting for you to decide

It's too many times you've let me down When I needed you you could not be found So I picked up the pieces Tried to mend my broken heart

'Cos I don't mind where you go Please don't come around call this your home 'Cos I don't mind where you go As long as you're not here

'I don't mind where you go Please don't come around or call this your home 'Cos I don't mind where you go As long as you're not here

Baby baby baby What did you think I'd say? That I'd take you back again Oh baby I've changed

Oh baby I've changed Oh baby I've changed Oh baby I've changed Oh baby I've changed

Because Because
