

Evolution

Galadriel

Blind, we're hunting for renown
Brothers and sisters nobody ever knows
Dead end but the gold means to survive
That's all that matters, humans have changed inside

There's evil sleeps in our hearts
Pleasure to kill's still alive
(Our) minds have grown into cruel machines
To suffer and delight

Blinded, we're falling over deads
Blood of our daughters, we're rotten to the bone
But it's only the feather in the wind
Eyes can see only the presence of night in us

So here we are, mankind in all its grace
We rule with pain and we love to hate
(We're) standing in pool of blood, a smile on our face
We're falling to the ground with a knife
We stabbed into our own back

There's evil sleeps in our hearts
Pleasure to kill's still alive
(Our) minds have grown into cruel machines
To suffer and delight

We're not digging the graves
We let the dead rot on the planes
There's no future, and we have no limits
We ride our lives on suicide waves

So here we are, mankind in all its grace
We're falling to the ground with a knife
We stabbed into our own back
