

No return

Gallows End

Behind the lies and false belief
There is another way of life
So why don't you try?
There's nothing wrong in living life
Don't be afraid to walk on the line
It's all worth your while

Just choose your own fate, never kneel before society
Raise your hands up high, and scream out loud

As the world keeps turning we march towards our destiny
And on this path in life we're bound to roam
Approaching nightfall, with burning eyes we set the course
We're reaching for the point of no return

Nothing's sacred don't you see?
It's all up to you and me to reach for our dreams
No morning star will guide our way
There ain't no preacher here to say
"bow down and obey"

Just choose your own fate, never kneel before society
Raise your hands up high, and scream out loud

As the world keeps turning we march towards our destiny
And on this path in life we're bound to roam
Approaching nightfall, with burning eyes we set the course
We're reaching for the point of no return

Just choose your own fate, never kneel before society
Raise your hands up high, and scream out loud

As the world keeps turning we march towards our destiny
And on this path in life we're bound to roam
Approaching nightfall, with burning eyes we set the course
On our journey to the end there's no return
And as night is falling, our journey finally reached it's end
We are at the point of no return
