

The Curse

Gallows End

Six days ago I left this world for a better place
A different time in another sphere so far from here
On a journey I have plunged myself
To a land of make believe
But little did I know about my fate

I see myself I am falling from grace
And nobody's catching my fall
Lost in this world and I cannot get out
Someone please answer my call

I roam the streets in this eerie world so close but yet so far
Invisible to mortal men, my presence is unknown
This can't be right! What have I done?
This wasn't meant to be
Lost in here forever, for all eternity
