To Mother Earth

Hey, this world's a dying planet nothing matters, nothing's won I have come to seek revenge for all that you have done Hate and fear, eternal sadness nothing matters, no one cares I am here to stop the madness free you from despair Once I heard the white dove sing it was the sound of peace beauty dies in agony crushed under debris She was so beautiful she was a dream and when I cry for her I hear them scream.. No respect, no heart for nature led by greed they tear our soil ripped, the sky, the damage major the air is at the boil Here create another wasteland on and on 'til nothing's there here it comes, the devastation poisoning the air Once I saw the eagle fly it was the sound of peace beauty dies in agony crushed under debris She was so beautiful she was a dream and when I cry for her I hear them scream.. You were so beautiful you were a dream all we shall heed the call shall be redeemed She was so beautiful she was a dream and when I cry for her I hear them scream.. Oh Mother Earth You were so beautiful just like a dream all we shall heed the call shall be redeemed Yeah!
