

Soldier

Gareth Emery

I'm gonna stand right here
I'm not gonna move
And when the sky falls down you'll find me next to you
I'm gonna stand right here
and wait for your voice
But when the worlds at war you know we got no choice, hey

When you hear the sound of the world on fire
And all that you can see is a brick red sky
When you know you can't make it on your own
I will be your soldier

When you're falling down and you're on the fence
I will be your shield I will keep you save
When you know you can't make it on your own
I will be your soldier

When you hear the sound of the world on fire
And all that you can see is a brick red sky
When you know you can't make it on your own
I will be your soldier

When you're falling down and you're on the fence
I will be your shield I will keep you save
When you know you can't make it on your own
I will be your soldier

Hey

I will be your soldier
I will be your soldier
