I Look at You

Gary Moore

Sometimes I feel so lonely
Sometimes I feel so lost
Sometimes there seems so many
Bridges to be crossed

But then I look at you
And I realize
But then I look at you
That it's all worth while

Sometimes I feel I'm losin'
Sometimes I just can't win
Sometimes I feel like cryin'
And I just hold it in

But then I look at you
Look at you and I realize
When I look at you
That it's all worth while

When I look into your eyes
I see the signs of the love you have inside
It's hard to hide
You're my life, you're my reason for living
It's so right, all this love you've been giving
Day and night, I'm always with you
And it's all worth while

Sometimes I feel I'm losin'
Sometimes I just can't win
Sometimes I feel like cryin'
And I just hold it in

But then I look at you
I look at you and I realize
I realize
When I look at you
When I look at you
That it's all worth while
All worth while

But then I look at you
I look at you and I realize
I realize
When I look at you
Open my eyes
That it's all worth while