

Where Are You Now?

Gary Moore

Sometimes I wonder, what would have been
If the distance hadn't meant to be so far between Sometimes I wonder, what you would say
If you could see the place I came to be today
Where are you now? Now when I need you by my side
So many tears I've cried since you've been gone
Where are you now? Now when I need you by my side
Forever we're connected by the ground beneath our feet
