One. One perfect lie. Was it told too soon? And one, one perfect life Turned to stone. Cold mercy.

I kneel down by your grave I kneel down torn and guilty

Did I let you down, Say goodbye too soon? And did you understand My mistake? Forgive me.

I kneel down by your side
I kneel down scared and helpless

One perfect lie
Wrapped in kindness and tears
I wish I believed in your Heaven
One perfect life
Led by blind faith and trust
If God has a heart He will find you

I'm torn and guilty
