

Blue Blue Moon

Gavin Friday

Another saturday night
And she knows where she's going
That small corner bar
On the far side of town
Folks call her ol' faithful
Cause she's always hanging around
Dressed up shimmy-shammy
In her sequins and pearls

Hey there, moon
Blue blue moon
I'm all alone
Blue blue moon
Without a love of my own

A stoli on ice
Makes everything just right
She laughs and chit-chats
With whoever's around
I've been there.. done that
Have you heard the one about..?
But no one really listens
And they don't hear the sound

Hey, there, moon
Blue, blue moon
I'm all alone
Blue, blue moon
Without a love of my own

I'm just looking for a friend
Someone to dance with me
A little romance
Cheek to cheek!
Someone to hold
And dance the night away

Tick-tock
Goes the barroom clock
It's a quarter past two
And the night's wearing thin
She saluts the happy couples
Bids them all a fond 'adieu'
Barman, make mine a double
Cinderella, here, has lost her shoe

Hey, there, moon
Blue, blue moon
I'm all alone
Blue, blue moon
Without a love of my own

So I'll make believe
Someone danced with me
She used to sing, she used to cry
But now...
She doesn't even try

Because she knows the stars
-- those bright & shiny stars! --
Have all fallen from the sky

And the moon is blue
