

Desert

Gazpacho

Dark is full of rays and this ocean is a wave and this desert is a keyhole of passed dancing days

So they're yelling out for last call and you want to comply so you fade into the background dissolve into the night

Can you pull down the colossus
Can you justify her scars
Can you bring life to a desert
can you justify her scars

You can hear the breathing its an unexpected beast As the icecubes are screaming you make your retreat

Come you slashers and you rippers
And you wonders of the world Theres a long closed fairground
And an ocean on the moon

He found himself a private desert and sometimes he feels that it expands its like its got him mirrored the way it fits into his hand as if its tailored
If you smash yourself against his wall
then you'll never trip
You'll never fall

"Time and the hour runs through the roughest day"
So you dream of lizards in fumbling foreplay
And our faults are in ourselves until they are unleashed You can win all you want
As long as you cheat

He tries to make himself something special
As he tries to make his dreams ignite
He says its for Dr. Jekyll You re a witness now to his last stand you re in danger
But if you smash yourself against his wall
then you'll never trip

eternal night can make it crucial you know you ve got to make a stand Why dont you ask the expert?
Somehow it fits, he`s in command
He`s been repaid he`s shut you down
If you smash yourself against his wall

You`ll never trip

You sit amidst your crayons extravagant balloon Wonder if theres someone In the ocean on the moon

But the dark is full of rays
And the desert is a wave
And the ocean is a fishbowl
With nothing on display

Well everyone is bluffing Watch them reeling in And if you believe them
The desert`s gonna win
