

Do You Know What You Are Saying

Gazpacho

The moment came and left me bare
Someone with something to declare

Now the waves have started raging
As the storm is moving in
And I thought that I'd be safe here
But the danger's from within

There's no pain just like desire Open up, let it in
There's a place where we can hide
One to have, one to Hold

Do you know just what you're facing?
Know what you will win?
Can it take away the anger?
Or is it harder giving in?

Faith is offered and declined
Burning earth in her kiss
Hopes are made and redefined
There ain't no way it's gonna play

I know what you're facing
I know what you will win
But will it it take away the anger?
Make it harder giving in?

Do you know what you are saying?

And I thought that I'd be safe here
Golden heart and silver spoon
But it's dangerous to keep swinging from the moon

The code is cracked
I can't bring you back and It's dangerous to keep swinging
from the moon
