

Jezebel

Gazpacho

Hold her steady
Dancing in snow
I'll give her everything I own and more, I know..

She's so shy, it's starting to show
The morning's early light
It grows in silence
Her hair is turning white with snowy diamonds
I feel like every second counts as hours as we roll into emotion

The ribbon's red and the bride is white
But Jezebel knows it's not all right
A carriage ride on a moonlit road
She's hiding him in the name of love

Jezebel is waiting only I know
Through the stain glass window
Her face is colder
She's been down to see the ocean liners feels that silence sleeps in the horizon

Watch your step as you run away
To Hollywood on your wedding day
Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire
Jezebel thought she'd make it there