

Once In A Lifetime

Gazpacho

Here's a girl that came back
Though her memories are cold
Barefoot summers a long time ago
Believed in things she never could own
She's been waiting to come home

Where the windows are cracked
Faith is peeled off the world
Eyes are open but vision is blurred
While the reeds have grown
as high as before
You can't see them anymore

Once in a lifetime
Gold in the rye
Is found in the moment
You're waving goodbye

Once in a lifetime
Exploding in light
If you ever find it
Don't throw it away

At the edge of the night
You can't go to sleep
Though I know that you're weary
Every second you're afraid
You're in too deep
With your dream

Your dream of a lifetime
One single day
If you ever find it
Don't throw it away

Once in a lifetime
Delight of the blood
Reminds you of somewhere
That you want to go

If you ever find it
Don't throw it away
Don't throw it away
