

Pins And Needles

GBH

If your body's feeling bad
And it's the only one you had
If your mind is in a state
Stainless steel penetrate

I can ease your pain away
Just an hour every day
Now relax, have faith in me
And I'll start your therapy

And I can help you
And you can help me
And together we'll find perfect harmony

I can make you understand
Only gotta take my hand
Close your eyes and lie down
I'll slip into my white gown

My needles are being sterilised
The power of the pins are not recognised
Now relax, have faith in me
And I'll start your therapy

And I can help you
And you can help me
And together we'll find perfect harmony

Faith and hope and charity
Will set your tortured body free
The secret lies in your own mind
I only seek payment of a kind

Your body sleeps while mine takes pleasure
Wake slowly at your own leisure
Now relax have faith in me
It's the end of your therapy

And I helped you
And you helped me
And together we found perfect harmony
