

Take This

Gemini Syndrome

A stranger asks me: "Where you coming from?"
I say: "I don't know..." (I don't know)
Well where you're going? Surely I'm going home

Like everything, we rise and fall away
Just as the ocean ebbs and flows each day

I'll take you away from your nightmare
If only you would come with me
I want to show you a better way... take this

A stranger stops and offers me a gift
And says: "Take this please..." (Take this please)
I never wanted anything more, the pressure brings me to my knees

Like everything, we rise and fall away
Just as the ocean ebbs and flows each day

I'll take you away from your nightmare
If only you would come with me
I want to show you a better way, so you and I will finally be free
Won't you please take this?

I never lived a life I wouldn't die for
But I guess it's all the same
The dream is still alive while you're not sleeping

The dreamer's dream...
The dreamer's dream...

As flawed as you may think you are, you're perfect to me
Crawl inside the hole in my heart and we will never leave
(Take you away...)

I want to show you a better way, so you and I will finally be free
Won't you please, so you and I will finally be free
Won't you please, take this
