Girl Don't Care

Gene Chandler

I know it hurts
It truly, truly hurts
When you know
The girl don't care

You cry, cry her a river
But she don't care
You know the girl don't care

Silently, you wait
Not wanting to complain
Convincing yourself
Convincing yourself
That things will change

But meanwhile
It hurts, it hurts
It truly, truly hurts
When you know
The girl don't care

(The girl don't care)
You cry like a baby
(The girl don't care)
But she don't care
(The girl don't care)

You're getting nowhere
You're getting nowhere
Oh, you're getting nowhere

What can the future hold
The future hold, hold for you
Oh, we're lonely, lonely
Lonely, lonely, baby
Lonely and forever blue

They say, they say
They say, they say
That you and I
That you and I
We shouldn't cry

But I just wanna tell you now
Come on, fellas, come on now
Let's tell the truth

Let's tell them, tell them
Tell them, tell them that it hurts
Oh, my, my, my, my, my, my
My, my, my, my, how it hurts
Oh, you know the girl don't care

(The girl don't care)
You bend over backwards
You do everything you can
(The girl don't care)

To make her happy but
The girl, she just don't care

(The girl don't care)
My, my, my, my
No matter what you do
(The girl don't care)
The girl, she just
She just don't really care

Come on, fellas
Let's tell them how it hurts
Let's tell them how it hurts
And then maybe, the girl
She just might care
