Freedom Walk

Gene Clark

Now and then the chill of fear Drums demonic discords near With hate the innocence of youth Is raped before the age of reason Even sees the truth

Beautiful is beauty's way
Who told the guru what to say
It wasn't Christ who had a better way
'Cause He knew that ultimately
The Mojo hand is gonna come into play

But he still had a better way

'Cause he would walk that walk
He would take a sign
And make the way down the freedom walk
And He knew how to make that sign
He knew how to make people see
That were blind down on the freedom walk

Skid row faces having not Swirling graceless empty in thought Soaked in wine until they rot Meanwhile you pay their way To not feel what they've become

Enough is enough say Vietnam

The cost of all those war machines and bombs

Spent on murderous insanity

Was enough to fill 1968's book of humanity

We're gonna walk that walk
And you know we're gonna talk that talk
Down on the freedom walk
The continentals voice is finally sound
And surface up from underground

Truth and courage newly they have found United now to bring those senseless boundaries down

You see them they all are walking their walk On top of the wall they're all just Talking their talk they talk of freedom walk All the spirits that have ever been bound Are coming in and they are hanging round 'Cause they want that walk, walk, walk

So get away from the chill of fear It summons up demonic discords And they want to rape with hate The innocence of youth And take away their eyes before The age of reason can see the truth

The spirit is that we well hide
The spirit is something some people think

That they can pay every Sundays hat And when the gates of Heaven open They have bought that

I wonder when they walk that walk Do they know how to make the sign And talk about the freedom talk Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh They know how to make that sign And they're gonna tell their mind They dug the freedom walk Oh, woh

Continentals voices sound
Surface up now the underground
Truth and courage can be found
The world can unite to bring
All those senseless boundaries down
