24 Sycamore

Gene Pitney

Here I've just lost a lifetime I have just lost my mind So Mr World look after that girl The one that I just left behind at 24 Sycamore

Where did my baby go? Who's gonna mend my rainbow? Who's gonna separate all the swimming around, Back there on the ground Flowing right under the gate of 24 Sycamore Where did my baby go?

Windows black, watched me crying and they said It's all over, you have lost her Why don't you run away? What could I say? I said,

Where's the hand that I used to hold? Once so warm but tonight so cold Now she's gone we both must share the pain She gone

My life is done, it's ended Just one more thing to I'll take a last look and then close the book On someone that I once knew at 24 Sycamore

Where did my baby go? Where's the hand that I used to hold? Once so warm but tonight so cold Now she's gone we both must share the pain She gone and I say

Where's the hand that I used to hold? Once so warm but tonight so cold Now she's gone we both must share the pain
