

I Must Be Seeing Things

Gene Pitney

Isn't that my girl and is that my best friend
Aren't they walking much too close together
And it don't look like they're talking about the weather

I must be seeing things, oh no, it can't be true
I must be hearing things when I hear her say to him
I want you, I need you, I love you

Looking through a tear, I can see him kissing her
And I feel my poor heart slowly breaking
I'd do anything if only I was mistaken

I must be seeing things, oh no, it can't be true
I must be hearing things when I hear him say to her
Forget him, it's over, you're mine now

I must be seeing things, I thought I'd never see
I must be hearing things, you made a fool of me
I must be seeing things and hearing things
Oh no, I need you so, oh, please don't go
