You're My Reason For Living

Gene Simmons

I'm crying, I'm dying Deep inside I'm lying, every time I call your name I was lonely, so lonely You were always my one and only (ooh) It's always the same But it's over, it's over And I can't help thinking it over and over But you're not to blame

You're my reason for living You're my reason for giving You're my reason for living And I can't help this feeling...

Another day, another sorrow And I can't help thinking there's no tomorrow... Without you... I can't feel the pain, and that's a start Well the first time I saw your face Was the last time I saw my heart (Ooh)

You're my reason for living And I can't help this feeling... You're my reason for living And I can't stop believing... No, no, no (ooh)

It's over, it's over Well I can't help thinking it over and over and over It's always the same (Ooooh)

You're my reason for living You're my reason for giving You're my reason for living And I can't help this feeling...
