

Stars Look Down

Generation X

Take a walk yourself,
And come to me
We're all alone,
In the night city, Heat tease

We could lie back
And watch the T.V.
Turn up the covers
As I ride my name, And you

I know you got friends
But I hope they don't know
Washing your face by the light
Here in bed ain't life, Such a goof

As the stars look down
As the stars look down
As the stars look down

Let's walk,
We'll find somewhere to go
We can't hide, From the life,
We know

To the bells,
All feels like a wreck
Im feeling this mouth,
But I think we may lick, And you

Did you see the devil,
Or something out there
Behind these skins
It won't go away
Don't go, Don't go
Why don't you stay

As the stars look down
As the stars look down
As the stars look down

I know they'll come tomorrow
They'll take all the fears away
We'll laugh with all the people there
When they ask, Begin to say
Do you want me, Really want me
Some flowers,
To your perfect man

As the stars look down
As the stars look down
As the stars look down

As the stars look down
As the stars look down
As the stars look down

Look down, Look dow-hawn
Oh-ah-how-wown

Look down

As the stars look down

As the stars look down

As the stars look down

As the stars look down

As the stars look down
