

In The Rapids

Genesis

The pattern is simple

Moving down the water
John is drifting out of sight
It's only at the turning point
That you find out how you fight

In the cold, feel the cold
All around...
And the rush of crashing water
Surrounds me with its sound

It's the same chord progression through the whole short song. The vocals and the band in intensity as the track goes on, but the chords remain the same.

Here are the chords tabbed out.

Keep in mind, I fingerpick everything I play, so my chords are the simplest ones and may be different from the ones most flat pickers use. If you flat pick, mute the x'd on each chord while strumming or play your barre chords.
