

Missing Those Days

Gentleman

The more tings change
is the more they remain the same
sorrow, joy and pain
reality of life dis a no game

missing those days again
when we used to open hearts for friend everything a change from now and then
but livity knows no end and we can't pretend

everything a change from now and then

losing your spirit on your journey to desire you no longer able to listen the angels choir how you get so cold tell me where is your fire from laughter joy and love you retire we movin on in time on des ya life wire but never lose your ground when you want get higher take time look at the world you admire now you ago find out that to yourself you are the greatest liar and causin calamities and me friend it is a pitty misunderstanding envy and jealousy always finding me guilty impossible to see nothin a wrong with a little contreversy you don't know where you from so tell me where will you go it takes more than memories for love to show no man is an island des you fi know like water over sand make we flow those

opportunity ina your palm to cultivate the good and then keep it warm but bless then more now we see that a gwaan and yet we find it so contrary it could be scary communication fi reborn yes we hafi keep the source of life goin on eternal intention it hafi be calm so me sing a song deeper the density
another intensity
on my face you won't find a frown in my heart i can feel it a pound say you a listen but you nuh hear the sound and you a spinnin like a merry go round trust so priceless don't abuse it define disgression and ways to use it caution and careful not to refuse it hold on to your love or you're about to lose it

hey burnin flame togetherness is surely no shame one god and one aim dis a di destiny that we supposed to claim
