

Revelation

This morning
I woke up with the sun shining in my eyes
I'm alive
I was once blind but now I see
I see the truth
I see the battle over heaven and hell
The dark shadow of our lost philosophies
I hear a voice in my head
It's calling out
Calling out and saying, "What's your name?"
I feel a change coming over me
And in my soul I know that I will never be the same

It's like pins and needles in my eyes
Revelation on my mind
(Don't let it go)

I see this world around me
Like the pale horse rider coming crashing down
It's got people following pages
You pray, but what ya doing with your life?
You need indoctrination now
I hear a voice in my head
It's calling out
It's saying, "Give me everything you've got"
I've got a new soul
And no one has control over me cuz I'm a free mind
And I will never stop

It's like pins and needles in my eyes
Revelation on my mind

Be careful what you pray
You've got to sever the shepherd away
Careful what you pray or you'll be preyed upon
And then there was light
And now I feel no pain
