

I Want A Girl

George Hamilton IV

I want a girl whose heart has been broken by a love that has passed her by
I want a girl whose lips have been taken by lips that have kissed and lied
I want a girl whose heart has known pain the kind that I'm feeling in mine
One who will understand how I feel and one who will not make me cry
I want a girl whose heart has been broken the way that my darling broke mine

I want a girl whose heart has known pain
