

Developing My Pictures

George Jones

I'm developing my pictures, my mind's my darkroom.
The proofs I'm searching for will be made clear soon.
I'm developing my picture of the girl I admire.
Soon I will see you, know you as you really are.

I'm told you wear two faces to hide things from me.
I've heard you've spoken very unkind words of me.
I don't believe hearsay, and take what I see.
But I've got to believe you love me.

I'm developing my pictures, my mind's my darkroom.
The proofs I'm searching for will be made clear soon.
I'm developing my picture of the girl I admire.
For I want to see you and know you as you really are.

Yes, I want to see you and know you as you really are...
