

I Should've Called

George Jones

Spent a week in Houston and watched it
Spent a day in Dallas missing
Lord, it sure was cold up in Montreal
I thought of you and I should've

Acapulca, lying in the sun
Spending all my gold drinking
Mexicali women, tan and tall
Wish you were here, I should've called.

In spite of all my good intentions
I am the one who built the wall
All by myself, who ever thought
I sure miss you, I should've called.

California is nice this time of year
Colorado and they got good
Back in Tennessee it's and early fall
I still love you, I should've called.

I still love you, I should've called.
I still love you, I should've called...
