

I Won't Need You Anymore

George Jones

You're my always and forever
You're the one that hung the moon
After all these nights together
I still get lost in your perfume

And if I could write a love song
Every line would tell the truth
It would be a warm and soft one
And my heart would say to you

When you see me walk on water
When the sea don't reach the shore
When the fires of hell freeze over
I won't need you anymore

Oh, the feelings lay so easy
Lyin' here the way we are
No one else could ever hold me
Like the heavens hold the stars

When you see me walk on water
When the sea don't reach the shore
When the fires of hell freeze over
I won't need you anymore

I won't need you anymore
