

If Only Your Eyes Could Lie

George Jones

Girl, I can tell that you're thinking of leavin' me
But it'll hurt me so much you don't want me to know
You done all you can to hide what you're feeling
Oh, but one part of you, it lets your feelings show.

Oh, your finger tips tell me you'll stay
And your warm red lips say you won't go away
And your lovin' arms make me think you're still mine
Oh girl, if only your eyes could lie.

So I say what's wrong, darling, you just say it's nothin'
I can almost believe it, hun., and when I hold you like this
But I know in my heart that there's no tomorrow
So just for tonight, hun., I'll pretend that there is.

Oh, your finger tips tell me you'll stay
And your warm red lips say you won't go away
And your lovin' arms make me think you're still mine
Oh girl, if only your eyes could lie.

Oh girl, if only your eyes could lie...
