

She Told Me So

George Jones

I'm her world and she revolves around me
Just being close to me makes her love grow
Each night she thanks God for the day she found me
For when she came home this morning she told me so.

And there's roses blooming in the Artic Circle
Icebergs in the Gulf of Mexico
And there's not one star in heaven and eight don't follow seven
But I'd believe it if she told me so.

I know people say she has a lover
Referring to this man she's come to know
Well, they're just friends, she loves him like a brother
And he's never even kissed her, she told me so.

And there's roses blooming in the Artic Circle
Icebergs in the Gulf of Mexico
And there's not one star in heaven and eight don't follow seven
But I'd believe it if she told me so.

If she told me so...
