

You've Got The Best Of Me Again

George Jones

I took you back against my better judgement
'Cause when it come to you, aw, it's so easy giving in
But it's just the same old story with you leaving in the end
And I believe you've got the best of me again.

You always knew the best way to get to me
So you stood there in the doorway and you cried your way right in
And I tried hard to love you better but I still did all I can
And I believe you've got the best of me again.

I've done every loving thing I know to do
But I guess my best ain't good enough for you
'Cause your the sweetest sometime lovers and I'm your king just now and then
And I believe you've got the best of me again.

Yes, your the queen of sometime lovers
And I'm your king just now and then.

Yes, I believe you've got the best of me again...
