I've nothing to hold

George: Don't kiss me, darling I want you to hear the things I say I loved you in my way But you know I'm gonna leave you Mutya: The clock was always ticking And your heart, Yes I know your heart is always on the run George: I hate what I've become But I'm still gonna leave you And I don't think you should stay for the night Baby you know that my flesh is weak You know I simply Both: I cannot sleep without you My heart has simply nowhere to go Mutya: Nothing to hold Those tears you're crying George: Time and time again you take me back in baby Mutya: You don't have to make it plain Both: This is not real love Mutya: Look at us dancing baby Let's dance and show them all (Dance and show them all) How close we are The lies have worked so far So we go on deceiving George: But darling don't you know the time Baby, look at yourself, holding back the tide Like you've got something else up your sleeve That's why I've got to leave Both: And I don't think you should stay here tonight (Baby don't you know that my flesh is weak, you know) I simply I cannot sleep without you But someday I'll have nothing to show (Nothing to show) (Nothing to show)

George:

Oh, baby, crying
All those simple things that won't come again
Oh do I have to make it plain
This is not real love
And I said this is not real love

Mutya:

Real love

Baby it don't glisten and shine the way it used to

George:

This is not real love (real love)
Baby think of all the promises I made on the day that I seduced you
Baby don't wait for me like some angel of tragedy
I have to set you free
Darling you should be long gone, oh long gone by now
You should be with someone, someone

Mutya:

Glisten and shine You promised me

George:

You've gotta face it woman, you ain't ever gonna change me

Mutya:

Where will I go, what do I know
About life without you
You promised me you'd never leave me, no
This is not real love
