

Home Improvement

George Strait

The walls that surround us are slowly crumblin' down
But the heart of this foundation is still on solid ground
Just need some renovation and a lot of TLC
And a long night of lovin' is all that we both need

So roll the shades down,
lock the doors up tight, turn on the code-a-phone
If the door bell rings,
We'll just stay in bed and pretend nobody's home
Let the neighbors think we moved away or forgot to pay the rent
There ain't nothing wrong with this old house,
It just needs a little home improvement.

Every day we go our separate ways
To make our dreams come true
But it ain't worth the sacrifice
If we're giving up me and you
We gotta hold on tighter than tight
To the lies that make us strong
And get back to the roots
That made this house a home

So roll the shades down,
lock the doors up tight, turn on the code-a-phone
If the door bell rings,
we'll just stay in bed and pretend nobody's home
Let the neighbors think we moved away or forgot to pay the rent
There ain't nothing wrong with this old house,
it just needs a little home improvement.

So roll the shades down,
lock the doors up tight, turn on the code-a-phone
If the door bell rings,
we'll just stay in bed and pretend nobody's home
Let the neighbors think we moved away or forgot to pay the rent
There ain't nothing wrong with this old house,
it just needs a little home improvement.
