Lover in Disguise

George Strait

There's a secret that I know about the lady that I love so And I'm the only one she's shown her secret to She's gentle and she's kind She's proper and refine But she lets down more than her hair Alone in our room

Cause she's more than a lady And there's a fire that burns behind those eyes She's more than a lady And every night when we lay down And she slips off her satin gown Oh, she proves she's a lover in disguise She's a lover in disguise

When we go out somewhere The men may stop and stare But they see she's a lady So they leave her alone She's more than she seems And in their wildest dreams They could never dream of what it's like to take her home

Cause she's more than a lady And there's a fire that burns behind those eyes She's more than a lady And every night when we lay down And she slips off her satin gown Oh, she proves she's a lover in disguise She's a lover in disguise

She's a lover in disguise She's a lover in disguise She's a lover in disguise
