

Badly Broken

Get Scared

I'm so badly broken

I blamed myself, you're so pathetic
You've moved along but you won't forget me
If there's a million different reasons why,
You left it all behind,
Then try me (you'll say anything)

When love has lost all its meaning,

You know,
You know I'm not alright,
This is where I draw the line,
I've tried to run, I've tried to hide
But I'm so badly broken
You know you swept me off my feet,
And now I'm stuck beneath
The bridge you burned on top of me
And I'm so badly broken.

I'm sure you got the best excuses
To keep me at your feet
It's all you got to clear your conscience,
Take a good long look at me!
You see a shell of what I used to be,
And can't get close to anyone or anything
Like how I thought it should be

When love has lost all its meaning,

You know,
You know I'm not alright,
This is where I draw the line,
I've tried to run, I've tried to hide
But I'm so badly broken
You know you swept me off my feet,
And now I'm stuck beneath
The bridge you burned on top of me
And I'm so badly broken.

You've lost your chance (your chance)
And you will never get to love me again
The sky has opened up (opened up)
And I can finally see the sun
And what it was, it was!

You, you know I'm not alright,
This is where I draw the line,
I've tried to run, I've tried to hide,
But I'm so badly broken
You know you swept me off my feet,
And now I'm stuck beneath
The bridge you burned on top of me
And I'm so badly broken.

You know,
You know I'm not alright,

This is where I draw the line,
I've tried to run, I've tried to hide,
But I'm so badly broken
You know you swept me off my feet,
And now I'm stuck beneath
The bridge you burned on top of me
And I'm so badly broken.

And you will never get to love me again
