

Go To The Mattress

Get Set Go

She bled on the mattress the first night at my studio
I panicked but she said, "Baby, don't you know
"That blood is much thicker than water"
I nodded, but I don't think I got her

Three weeks later she moved into my studio
All she brought was her stereo
A broken stereo and a picture of me
That she put at her bedside

I'm a lecher,
She's a cheater
I let her cut me
She likes to let me beat her
I'm a fker
She's a screamer
I may be tougher
But she's definitely meaner
With all of our love,
With all of our spite
We go to the mattress

While I slept she burned me so I broke her collarbone
She ran to the neighbor's but he wasn't home
So she hitched to the clinic but they wouldn't accept her
So she called me to get her

"Love," she said, "is a force that draws me to you"
I said, "Sugar, I want to believe that's true"
She said, "Lover, you can trust me forever,
"Cause we're just getting better"

I'm a lecher,
She's a cheater
I let her cut me
She likes to let me beat her
I'm a fker
She's a screamer
I may be tougher
But she's definitely meaner
With all of our love,
With all of our spite
We go to the mattress
With all of our love,
With all of our spite
We go to the mattress

I never knew she could be so cruel
I never knew she could seem so beautiful to me

I never meant to hurt her at all
Push came to shove, and she was falling down

I'm a lecher,
She's a cheater
I let her cut me
She likes to let me beat her

I'm a fker
She's a screamer
I may be tougher
With all of our love,
With all of our spite
With all of our love,
With all of our spite
