Imagine when your lungs are filling up with liquid Intoxicated poison flowin' through your veins It seems like nothing's changed My purple neck is stating all that I'm against but. I guess that's how we end up When we're underwater

Mayday! mayday! this ships going down And as your captain I'm ready to drown... I'm gonna drown so deep in you I'm gonna drown so deep in you

This necklace that you've got wrapped around my neck Will choke me slowly to my death And I'm into that

These weights are tied up to my legs Sinking lifeless has never felt so peaceful These waves are crashing all the same Water washing through this sea of people

This necklace that you've got wrapped around my neck Will choke me slowly to my death And I'm into that This necklace that you've got wrapped around my neck Will choke me slowly to my death And I'm into that

The purple on your neck, Stating all that I'm against This ship is going down This ship is going down

Mayday! Mayday! this ships going down And as your captain I'm ready to drown It's been a good run,
But were fucked in this town
Now I'll close my eyes tight,
Till we sink to the ground
