

Tekilla

Ghoultown

when the sun goes down and darkness comes around and we're ridin in from all points hellbound there's only one thing that can keep the world in order some of that honey of the earth fruit of the agava

get set up to knock down
cuz you know
that's how we stalk the night

chorus:
tekilla

in the morning you'll begin to feel it in every bone like rigor mortis in a poor old zombie's soul but right now we're comin onto high midnight so come on killers let those fkin shots fly you feel it in every bone

cuz you know
that's how we stalk the night

when the lights go out and all the bars close their doors find your queen of the night and move it to the streets drink the last drop, yeah baby swallow the worm cuz life is short and by mornin we all burn you take it in every hole

cuz you know
that's how we stalk the night