

Time won't stand by forever
If I know it's true
And I've learned not to say never
Else I'll seem the fool

At 29, you'd think I'd know better
Living like a kid
When my lies may seem less than clever
Is when I fall for it

Only time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
Forgotten memories

Some rides don't have much of a finish
That's the ride I took
Through good and bad and straight through indifference
Without a second look

There's no intentions worthy of mention
If we never try
So hang your hopes on rusted-out hinges
Take 'em for a ride

Only time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
Forgotten memories

Some rides don't have much of a finish
That's the ride I took
Through good and bad and straight through indifference
Without a second look

Only time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
Forgotten memories

Only time will tell, only time will tell
Only time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Only time will tell
