

I Know Who You Are

Ginny Owens

Some people hear my words
And think I'm wise beyond my years
And others wonder if I am sincere
Some would say I'm foolish

To put my faith in You
And some would say I'm wise because I do
As I consider all of this
All that really matters is

I know, I know who You are
By the way You make the wind blow
And the way You stir my heart
And I have only made it through so far
'Cause I know, I know who You are

Some say You are the only truth
And some say You're a fraud
Some think we invented You
Some call you God

Some say You were a noble man
Very kind and good
Some think You were a prophet just misunderstood
But I'm content to always be
A witness to your mystery

And even though I've never seen Your face
I have heard You calling out my name
