

Sly

Girl in a Coma

So I reached the end of all to bring it back to home and then you reach to Me to freeze the idle breeze
Oh and you couldn't tell a lie you couldn't tell a lie to save your life

And I broke the spell again a cross around my hand I took the time to weep
It dropped me on my feet
Oh and I couldn't tell a lie I couldn't tell a lie to save my life

And you broke his heart again you spit it back to him and then I broke it
All the bridge that binds us all
Oh and we couldn't tell a lie we couldn't tell a lie to save our lives

Bring it back against the wind hold me up to gasp and never let me send

And you will fly in the bottle of time
Fly butterfly drink your bottle of wine
See how high you fly

Oh and you couldn't tell a lie
