Caught

I thought I found the right dude Put you up to my girls They said you couldn't be true But you said I was your world They set up the plan I prayed it wouldn't get too deep First the introduction We knew she was your type Hit you with temptation I hoped you wouldn't bite But so easily you took the bate Now I present the case

What do you get when your Credit card bills comin' in too high I never see them gifts that I know you buy What do you get when you You say your job is calling, the you're talking real low I walk into the room and you gotta go

That's what you get when you

You must got me mixed up with some other chick Cause I'ma have to shut you down That's what you get when you get what you got Baby you got caught That's what you get when you get what you got Baby you got caught

So tell me, what's your defense? While I hunt down your senses I got the evidence Boy you're guilty as sin You must've thought me soft Now I'ma have to cross you off Alright, it goes now That's the way it's going down Thought you was different Never was you thinking How could you throw it all away? Now I present the case

What do you get when your

Credit card bills comin' in too high I never see them gifts that I know you buy

What do you get when you

You say your job is callin, the you're talking real low I walk into the room and you gotta go

That's what you get when you

You must got me mixed up with some other chick Cause I'ma have to shut you down That's what you get when you get what you got

Girlicious

Baby you got caught That's what you get when you get what you got Baby you got caught Baby you got caught

How could you stoop down so low And do that dirt behind my back?

Comin' home in the AM, under my surveillance

Do you remember that? I bet you thought you was ballin' Every time she was callin' And now it's too late for your regrets What do you get when your Credit card bills comin' in too high I never see them gifts that I know you buy

What do you get when you You say your job is callin, the you're talking real low I walk into the room and you gotta go That's what you get when you

You must got me mixed up with some other chick Cause I'ma have to shut you down That's what you get when you get what you got Baby you got caught (when you got caught) That's what you get when you get what you got Baby you got caught

You got caught

How could you do it? How could you do it to me? Its too late, its too late now Its too late, its too late now To apologize to me Don't say you're sorry
