Hear Me Out

I was drowning in the rain Getting lost beneath the downpour Trying to shield a dying flame, oh Nearly lost what I had come for But somewhere in my heart A little gold was working its way out And made a star to guide me on my way Somewhere deep inside I remembered what it's all about I took my time But now I think I'll have my say. oh Hear me out I've done my running believe me Without a doubt I'll no longer take the blame Hear me out My heart is broken and bleeding But it's beating No other man I love Is gonna leave me in the rain I know (I was lost but now I'm found) As the rain pours down the window (And I've turned my life around) I'm no longer here in limbo No more dramas Smeared mascara on my pillow Now I can see which way I'm going Follow my heart that's what they say Never too small can't stop me growing Taking the world on day by day Follow the way the wind is blowing Free to explore and find my way I'll take all the stuff that life is throwing This is the chance to have my say, yeah Hear me out I've done my running believe me Without a doubt I'll no longer take the blame Hear me out My heart is broken and bleeding But it's beating No other man I love Is gonna leave me in the rain Hear me out I've done my running believe me Without a doubt I'll no longer take the blame

Hear me out

But it's beating

My heart is broken and bleeding

Girls Aloud

No other man I love Is gonna leave me in the rain I know (I was lost but now I'm found) As the rain pours down the window (And I've turned my life around) I'm no longer here in limbo No more dramas Smeared mascara on my pillow

I know I know
