

Changes

Girls Under Glass

one winter night I recognized that time has passed much too fast and I decided to change my life the more I think about my life the more I see life is a game and then I tried to understand changes for life changes my flight I'm comingback I'm coming back I feel the power the time for change changes for life I change my side one winter night I had a dream that I am empty that I am clean in my head and then I said I'm in the circle of nowhereland I'm in the white room the room of lies and then I tried to understand the more I think the more I see the more I know how to understand
